ABOUT THIS ROLE:

The Aboriginal Family Practitioner is a role within the Department for Child Protection (DCP) and is accountable to the Supervisor for case management and co-working on child protection assessments involving Aboriginal families. This includes making and supporting referrals for culturally appropriate interventions that foster strengthening of families and the safety and well-being of Aboriginal children and young people. The role is responsible for assisting in the development and implementation of a holistic culturally based service that provides specialised and innovative services and achieving a high-quality service in the engagement of Aboriginal families.

YOU WILL BE ADDING VALUE BY:

1. Respond to notifications of child abuse and outcomes of investigations involving Aboriginal families, and where necessary review and reassess and be open to a change of view in responding to new evidence.
2. Contribute to the protection of Aboriginal children, evaluate the risk of abuse, failure to protect and harm to self and other people and ensure that all matters regarding the care and management of Aboriginal children are reported in line with departmental policies and procedures.
3. Co-work in child protection assessments involving Aboriginal families.
4. Use a culturally accountable model of practice to identify problems and concerns, together with strengths and resources which enables families to mobilise their own resources and those from elsewhere, reviewing their progress and personal difficulties to promote and achieve independence.
5. Monitor the problem solving and coping capacities of individuals and assist in ensuring that Aboriginal families are enhanced through the provision of respectful consultation processes.
6. Identify, collect and share information and observe clients and their situations in a manner which promotes dignity and allows them to assess and determine strategies that contribute to their well-being.
7. Support families to connect with community-based services which can address their needs and which can support them to make sustainable changes which will enhance the well-being and safety of them and their children.
8. Develop and maintain effective working relationships with the Aboriginal community and other key stakeholders in order to achieve quality outcomes for Aboriginal families and their children.
9. Contribute to the provision and coordination of culturally appropriate service delivery.
10. Provide culturally appropriate advice, information and assistance in relation to Aboriginal people to departmental staff which is comprehensive and contributes to the goals for intervention.
11. Take action and provide services that are inclusive of Aboriginal people and people from culturally and linguistically diverse backgrounds as well as engaging in learning about other cultures to better establish relationships and improve services.
12. Contribute to maintaining a safe and healthy work environment by taking personal accountability by identifying and reporting incidents, hazards and injuries in accordance with DCP policy & procedure, and cooperating and complying with reasonable instructions of DCP line management and WHS Officers.

YOU WILL CONTRIBUTE TO

OUR VISION is for all children and young people to grow up safe, healthy, connected and feeling loved so they reach their full potential.

OUR PURPOSE: The Department for Child Protection protects, cares for and empowers children and young people at risk and in care. We do this by working together with our key partners to respond to abuse and neglect, keep children and young people safe from further harm, help them heal from trauma and reach their full potential.

Leaders in practice excellence

Staff in all parts of child protection develop and use best practice in their work to deliver improved outcomes for children, young people, carers, and families.

Closing the Gap

We commit to a transformed child protection system that makes active efforts and where Aboriginal people and communities are empowered to lead decision making about the care and wellbeing of Aboriginal children and young people.

A child protection system that meets the needs of children and young people

We commission and deliver services based on a deep understanding of the needs of children and young people in care and our aspirations for them to heal from trauma and reach their full potential.

A thriving workforce

We are future focused in our workforce strategy, supporting and valuing our staff, proactively recruiting, and establishing sustainable systems, processes and workplaces that enable us to be highly effective.

Active and collaborative partnerships

We work together with our service partners and alongside the community to improve outcomes for children, young people, carers, and families.

Working alongside carers

We respect and value carers as vital partners in keeping children and young people safe and well.

Quality services and safeguarding

We are accountable and transparent, and pursue continuous improvements to promote the safety and wellbeing of children and young people throughout the services we fund and provide.
